

Abstract of the Disclosure

Apparatus and a method for handling nested faults including the steps of determining whether a fault is a first level fault, responding to a determination of a first level fault by saving a first amount of state
5 sufficient to handle a first level fault, and responding to a determination of a nested fault by saving an additional amount of state before handling the fault.

TECHNICAL FIELD